Dear Parishioners,

Last weekend in my announcements I mentioned that we would be starting the Hope appeal this week. The Diocese of Syracuse has decided to move the appeal to September and will conclude December 31. As you may know the Hope Appeal does a lot to support the Diocese of Syracuse in so many ways.

The diocese of Syracuse is comprised of 116 parishes and 196,000 Catholics between seven counties. Across these seven counties your Hope appeal donations go to help fund Catholic School Education, Vocation promotion, Catholic Charities which helps those in need either by way of providing shelter, food, medical help, or any other assistance when people find themselves in a struggle. I have been blessed to help in a catholic Charities men's homeless shelter in Syracuse where you learn to really meet people where they are at. Many of the men simply wanted someone to talk to while they try and get themselves back on their feet. It was a blessing to simply talk with the men and to hear their life stories. Many of them are veterans or people that had a career before falling on hard times. Catholic Charities makes experiences such as those possible.

Your donation to the Hope Appeal can help so many people please consider helping Christ our Hope Meet our goal. Our goal this year is $17,662.66 which is down from years past. I pray that you will consider a gift this year to help those in need throughout our Diocese. I realize that many people may be in a situation where they are not able to give, but any donation will help, there is no gift too big or small. We are all called to give what we are able from the heart.

God Bless,
Fr Matt Rawson
