Dear Parishioners,

Loving our enemies is a foreign concept to many of us and is probably one of the most difficult phrases in the entire bible.
We hear difficult tasks in the bible such as sell everything you own and follow me, if your arm causes you to sin cut it off, and this one especially we hear this weekend, love your enemy. We have all heard the sayings, turn the other cheek, or grin and bear it, but to do those things in a particular circumstance is much more difficult than talking or writing about it.

How then do we love our enemy? I think if we look at some different depictions in scripture, we can learn that at the heart of loving our enemies is forgiveness. Look at Jesus on the road to Calvary. Along the way, the soldiers degrade, beat and torture Jesus.
Even after they nail Him to the Cross, what is the response of Jesus? "Father forgive them, for they know not what they are doing". At the heart of this response is not only love but forgiveness. How then are we to have this kind of love and forgiveness in our hearts?
We also must remember that Jesus was the Son of God and not capable of sinning. As humans, we are flawed. We can choose right from wrong which is called free will. This is the same choice Adam and Eve had when they chose the path to sin.

As we focus on what it means to love our enemy, we may come to the realization that it is better to separate ourselves from those we don't get along with. We realize that we are not God therefore we do not have the same ability to forgive and love as Christ did, but we are called to imitate that to the best of our abilities. How can you better love those you disagree with? Take some time this week and reflect on how you can love your enemies the same as Christ did, knowing that we may fall short, we continue to try our best.

God Bless,
Fr. Matt Rawson
