Memorare

REMEMBER, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired with this confidence, I fly to thee, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother; to thee do I come; before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me.
 Amen.

Dear Parishioners,

In our first reading this weekend, we listen to the story of Elijah. In 1 Kings 19:4-8, we find the prophet Elijah at a crossroads of despair and divine intervention. After a significant victory over the prophets of Baal, Elijah is consumed by fear and fatigue as he flees from Queen Jezebel's wrath. His plea for death reveals a moment of profound vulnerability that resonates with many of us. Despite his previous triumphs, Elijah feels overwhelmed and alone, illustrating that even the most faithful servants can face deep despair.

This passage highlights God's compassionate response to human weakness. Instead of chastising Elijah for his fear, God sends an angel to provide food and drink, demonstrating that He understands our physical and emotional needs. This divine care serves as a reminder that our spiritual journeys are intertwined with our physical well-being. Often, in our moments of distress, it is essential to pause, reflect, and recharge, both spiritually and physically.

Elijah's subsequent journey of forty days and nights to Horeb signifies a deeper spiritual quest. The journey reflects the biblical motif of preparation and transformation, suggesting that periods of struggle can lead to profound encounters with God. It prompts us to consider our own journeys and the times when we have felt lost or overwhelmed. Just as Elijah was led to a sacred place, we, too, can find solace and clarity in our moments of solitude and reflection.

Ultimately, this passage reassures us that God is aware of our struggles and is present in our darkest moments. It encourages us to seek His nourishment—both physically and spiritually—and to trust that He will guide us back to our purpose, reminding us that even in our weakest moments, we are not alone. God's grace sustains us, enabling us to rise again and continue our journey.

Have a Blessed week,
 Fr. Matt
