Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

As we make our way through Lent, we look forward to the great celebrations of the Easter Triduum culminating at the Easter Vigil, the celebration of Christ's victory over death. Our Lenten observance makes present to us the fact that we are all on a journey that concludes not merely with the celebration of Easter, but with the ultimate fulfilment revealed to us in Christ: "Truly, truly, I say to you, he who hears my word and believes him who sent me, has eternal life; he does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life." (John 5:24)

It is the promise of eternal life that helps us journey in hope. As we hear from The Second Reading: Since we have been justified by faith... we boast in hope of the glory of God. And hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. Pope St. John Paul II reflects on the Hope that has been given to us in Christ:

St. Paul underlines the intimate and deep bond which exists between the gift of the Holy Spirit and the virtue of hope. "Hope", he says in the Letter to the Romans, "does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us" (Rom 5:5). Yes, the very gift of the Holy Spirit, filling our hearts with God's love and making us children of the Father in Jesus Christ (cf. Gal 4:6), instils in us the sure hope that nothing "will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Rom 8:39). For this reason, the God revealed in the "fullness of time" in Jesus Christ is truly "the God of hope", who fills believers with joy and peace, so that "by the power of the Holy Spirit [they] may abound in hope" (Rom 15:13). Thus Christians are called to be witnesses to this joyful experience in the world, and to "always be prepared to make a defence to any one who calls [them] to account for the hope" that is in them (1 Pt 3:15).

Made Christ and Lord through the paschal mystery (cf. Acts 2:36), Jesus becomes "a life-giving spirit" (1 Cor 15:45), and believers, baptized in him with water and the Spirit (cf. Jn 3:5), are "born anew to a living hope" (1 Pt 1:3). Henceforth the gift of salvation, through the Holy Spirit, is the pledge and seal (cf. 2 Cor 1:21-22; Eph 1:13-14) of the full communion with God to which Christ leads us. The Holy Spirit, one reads in the Letter to Titus, was "poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour, so that we might be justified by his grace and become heirs in hope of eternal life" (Ti 3:6-7). (General Audience on Wednesday 11 November 1998)

As we face the many challenges that we encounter in this life, we must draw strength from the gift of hope that is bestowed by the Spirit on all who believe.

Grace be with you all,
 Rev. Thomas I. Ward
