Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

REFLECTION

A teaching of the Church that is rarely mentioned is The Universal Call to Holiness. The Second Council speaks of this call in the document Lumen Gentium (Light of the Nations):

The classes and duties of life are many, but holiness is one—that sanctity which is cultivated by all who are moved by the Spirit of God, and who obey the voice of the Father and worship God the Father in spirit and in truth. These people follow the poor Christ, the humble and cross-bearing Christ in order to be worthy of being sharers in His glory. Every person must walk unhesitatingly according to his own personal gifts and duties in the path of living faith, which arouses hope and works through charity. (Lumen Gentium, #41)

In the Gospel this weekend Jesus tells us: "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves. For my yoke is easy, and my burden light." I have mentioned this passage in the past and pointed out that the cross is the burden that Jesus would take upon Himself in order to free us all from sin. Jesus desires that all people and each individual person be yoked with Him. It is through union with Christ that we can endure the trials and hardships of life. Lumen Gentium continues:

May all those who are weighed down with poverty, infirmity and sickness, as well as those who must bear various hardships or who suffer persecution for justice sake—may they all know they are united with the suffering Christ in a special way for the salvation of the world. The Lord called them blessed in His Gospel and they are those whom "the God of all graces, who has called us unto His eternal glory in Christ Jesus, will Himself, after we have suffered a little while, perfect, strengthen and establish". (Lumen Gentium, #41)

The Call to Holiness is an invitation given to all and holiness is itself the fruit of authentic conversion. It begins with our awareness that, in this life we must all contend with suffering, sin and the specter of death. It is Jesus who comes to us personally to forgive sin and relieve or give purpose to suffering. He too is ultimately our victory over death itself. Jesus yearns for us to be yoked with Him for His yoke is easy and, with Him every burden can be endured.

Pope Benedict XVI, reflecting on The Universal Call to Holiness explains: Holiness, the fullness of Christian life, does not consist in carrying out extraordinary enterprises but in being united with Christ, in living his mysteries, in making our own his example, his thoughts, his behavior. The measure of holiness stems from the stature that Christ achieves in us, in as much as with the power of the Holy Spirit, we model our whole life on his. (General Audience in St. Peter's Square, 13 April 2011)

Grace be with you all,
Rev. Thomas I. Ward
